Background

Govdex is an Australian Government initiative designed for use by government departments to share documents and information with its stakeholders. The Department of Finance provides hosting, infrastructure, software, applications and information storage and disaster recovery for the service at no cost to the client.

Govdex for MACs, RAGs and other similar bodies

Following successful trialling of Govdex across selected Resource Assessment Groups (RAGs) AFMA is implementing Govdex across its management advisory committees (MACs), RAGs and other similar bodies for the collation and distribution of documents in a secure and easy to use environment. These documents include agendas, meeting papers, minutes and committee related forms and policies. Govdex you will enable you to:

- view historic and upcoming papers including agendas, meeting papers and minutes
- view and contribute to meeting agendas
- view and provide comment on meeting minutes
- download committee related forms and policies
- view action item progress
- Govdex can be access through desktop computers, laptops and other electronic devices as long as you have internet access
- automated email notifications of updates.

AFMA's Executive Officers (EOs) will administer their MAC and RAG Govdex communities including managing the content in the community and managing user access.
